A general alarm was rung in for a sick chimney in a house on Howard street Saturday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock. Before the department reached the place the Italian occupants of the house had administered about 25 pails of the water cure so effectively that there was no trace of fire or smoke while there was an inch or two of water on the floor. The pulling in of the alarm was entirely unnecessary, as a telephone call to the chemical would have done better service. The general alarm called in the hook and ladder team which was sprinkling Main street, and after considerable delay the hitch was made.
